

THE SMART SET IS GOSSIPING

NO ODOR, NO DIRT, NO WASTE

Stiver Polsh Polish gets its name from the manner in which it is applied. The polish is rubbed on the surface of the shoe with a cloth, having a perforated top similar to a pepper mill. This insures cleanliness as well as simplicity of application. The polish is applied to the surface to be polished first, in order to remove all extraneous dirt and grease. A damp cloth will serve this purpose. Dust and small quantities of polish from the box can be removed with a clean cloth. The polish will distribute the polish evenly, and a new shine will be obtained. The polish is rubbed, producing a brilliant jet black luster that will neither rub nor burn off. There is no odor, and the polish is safe for use on all polished shoes without soiling your clothing in any other method. When you have finished, you have no dirty or ungainly shoes to put away. The polish will not dry out. It is good to the very last drop. It costs less than any other shoe polish, and it costs less than any other polish.

All dealers sell Stiver Polsh Polish at 50¢ and 10¢.

Caught in a Folding Bed.
DANVILLE, Ind., May 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dill were caught in a folding bed, which was shaken from them, both firmly, so that they were unable to help themselves. The bed contained a mirror which was broken, and the crash of the bed was so great that it was feared H. M. Dill, who found his parents helpless. Mrs. Dill was severely bruised.

Boy of Fifteen is Missing.
[Special to The Indianapolis News.]
ANDERSON, Ind., May 20.—Rolf Longtellow, fifteen years old, son of Mr. Longtellow, of this city, has been missing since April 15. His father and relatives have been searching for the boy every day after he disappeared, but no trace of him has been found. They feel confident that he is still in the city, and he is probably not far from this city, so far as means to locate him have failed, so far as the police are concerned.

Celuloid Factory Endangered.
[Special to The Indianapolis News.]
LINDEN, Ind., May 20.—A pile of corn stalks in the yards of the celuloid factory accidentally caught fire, and for a time threatened to burn the factory, as this town is without a fire department. The villagers, however, rallied to the aid of the loss was confined to a nominal sum.

MEMORIAL PRAISES THE LATE NATHAN MORRIS

ADOPTED BY ENAI BRITH CON-VENTION AT CLEVELAND.

AT INDIANAPOLIS NEXT YEAR

The Independent Order of Enai Brith, of which Mr. Louis Newberger, of this city, was the retiring president, held a district meeting at Cleveland this week, at which a very touching tribute was paid to the late Nathan Morris, who was a member of the order. The next district meeting of the order, which is composed of eight states, will be held in Indianapolis next May.

William Ornstein, of Cincinnati, was elected president and Harry Schloss, of Terre Haute, was chosen second vice-president. The memorial adopted says in part: "Nathan Morris was one of the thorough of active life. He was born in 1837. All his life he was simply Nathan Morris. All his life he was grandly a man. He died on the 12th of April, 1903, in an attempt to save the lives of those he loved. A sleeping household enveloped by fire—Nathan Morris the first to discover the danger. He had brought to safety several of his sister's family. For him, safety lay but a step away. But in the hour of his fate, he turned his face from safety and health and pleasure and life, and with nobleness that will enrich his memory so long as those who knew him shall live, he rounded out his life of self-sacrifice by turning again to the dreadful danger to rescue others whom he knew to be helpless, and in a twinkling made his compact with death.

None Appealed in Vain. "In his early manhood he associated himself with every phase of Jewish communal life. He was an earnest, faithful and freedom-loving member of the Sons of the Covenant and of the Congregation in Indianapolis. No organization having for its purpose the lessening of sorrow's burdens, or the lessening of poverty's hardships, ever appealed in vain to Nathan Morris. Neither did he permit either to become an appeal with the true spirit of sympathy who wholly subscribed to the doctrine of the universal brotherhood of man, and went out with a persistence that would not be baffled those to whom unwilling fortune had withheld the comforts and joys of their life; and without ostentation, and with a generosity that made the act a favor to him who performed it rather than to the recipient, lavished his beneficence upon the poor and needy, and bound to himself the hearts of all who knew him. "Neither power, nor station, nor position had attractions for his ambition. He put away from him, gently but firmly, any honors that might be thrust upon his unwilling acceptance. He preferred to live his life simply as a lawyer, earnestly as a man, and lovingly as a benefactor of all who knew him. The memorial also says that he was a member of the West. The memorial is signed by Philip W. Frey, Abe Bloch and Sol R. Kiser, as members of the committee.

RECEIVED A BIRTHDAY PRESENT OF $50,000

W. H. MORRISON, JR. WAS THE LUCKY RECIPIENT.

A GIFT FROM HIS FATHER

W. H. Morrison, Jr., of the W. H. Morrison Printing Company, received a $50,000 gift from his father, W. H. Morrison, today, which is his twenty-fourth birthday anniversary. The gift was the property at 50 and 52 Monument Place. It has a frontage on the Circle of thirty-two and a half feet and is fifty-six feet wide on the alley. The instrument by which the present becomes a matter of record says that the consideration in the transfer of the property was "one dollar, love and affection."

The property is on the west side of the Circle, beside the Journal building, and is occupied by a building that does not extend out to the circle, in which is established the Morrison printing business. Building to be Improved. The building will soon be extended, both to the alley and to the street in front. The front addition to the building will be three or four stories high, and will present much an appearance as the old building to the general appearance of the Circle. The addition in the rear, to make room for which an old building on the rear of the lot has already been removed, will add considerably more room.

Mr. Morrison will also give a dinner for his son at the Imperial Hotel, this evening, at which twenty-four friends of the family will be seated.

It's well to follow a good rule in clothes buying as well as in other things.

All clothing isn't the same, and all clothing stores are not the same by any means. It's a good rule to compare a little and see where your money will get you the most, and then put it there. We don't want anybody to buy clothing from us if he feels he can do better at some other store. We want to satisfy you every time you buy from us.

GOOD PROGRAMS WERE WELcomed

CLOSE OF MUSIC FESTIVAL CONCERTS AT ENGLISH'S.
SOLO WORK WAS BEAUTIFUL

The star of yesterday's afternoon concert was decidedly Mrs. Furbeck. With a presence of exquisite grace, she complemented the effect which her beautiful voice produced and so won the audience absolutely. A contralto voice just like Mrs. Furbeck's is not often heard. Possessing much richness of timbre, it is yet free from that aggressive, assertive quality which puts a rough edge on many otherwise great voices of the class, making them positively disagreeable. The only real criticism to be passed on Mrs. Furbeck's singing is the very marked difference in color between the tones in her upper and lower registers. The latter, however, were not so much of a disadvantage as the former. One must get used to this individual peculiarity before one can thoroughly enjoy her singing.

She sang first, yesterday, with orchestral accompaniment, the "Habanera" from "Carmen," lending herself to its pleasant rhythm with such ease and abandon and with so much dramatic suggestion as to bring to the mind of her audience the whole picture of the opera, with its stage full of Spanish officers and cigarette girls, bewitching and seductive of any sort, she nevertheless, brought her own performance to the fore by the operatic one than most singers find it possible to do. After instant applause she returned and sang delightfully "Bon Jour, Suzanne."

A Group of Songs.

In the second part of the program she contributed a group of songs: "The Pilgrim Song," by Tschalkowski; "Sweetest Flower," by Eichen; and "In Blossom Time," by Neumann. The latter was in the first of the group. Mrs. Furbeck combines freshness of voice with artistic experience; in a word, she is just now at that prime of an artist's career when youthful enthusiasm and native gift show the cultivator's effect of judgment and method without loss of their buoyant charm.

Other soloists for the afternoon were Jan Van Oord, violinist, who played a Vieuxtemps concerto with much suavity and little fire, and Trans W. Carmo, who solo, a polonaise by Popper, merited and received a good measure of applause. The harpist for the afternoon was unable to be present, and in her stead Mr. Seebeck played three beautiful numbers from his own "Nature music": "The Rainbow," "The Butterflies," and "The Frog-Pond." The "Butterflies" and "The Frog-Pond" were little tone sketches, but Mr. Seebeck played them so effectively that this remains a matter of inference and not of demonstration.

The orchestral numbers, an overture by MacCunn, "Lads of the Mountain and the Flood," the "Carmen" excerpts and "Rose From the South" (excerpts), were all good.

Too Long, but of Good Quality.

The night program was much too long, but in quality it was the best of the three programs of the festival. Mr. Seebeck, in his concerto, and in the little gavotte which served as his encore, was much more interesting than he had been in the afternoon. Both of the orchestral numbers, the overture to "Merry Wives of Windsor" and the movement from Mackenzie's "London Day by Day," were welcome, but it was a pity that the "Irish Rhapsody" to them, when the program had already been lengthened by the postponement of the Austrian hymn from the preceding night.

The double quartet from "Gullistan" introduced were Mrs. Leo Riggs, Miss Litta Grimm, Mrs. Gertrude Haeger, Miss Catherine Gibson, Frank L. Taylor, Homer Van Wie, H. W. Laut and J. William Bussey. The quartet, with many friends in the house to enjoy and applaud their work.

The larger works of the evening were the "Austrian Hymn" and the "Gullistan" by Mrs. Wilson. Mrs. Furbeck, Mr. Hamlin and Mr. Beresford as soloists, the chorus and the orchestra, the solo work in both of these was beautiful and the four voices in the quartet blended in fine harmonies and the orchestra, in the afternoon and the evening were considerably larger than on Monday night, the house being well filled at both concerts.

MANY PREACHERS PRESENT.

Session of Ministerial Institute of Indiana Miami Reserve Conference.

The session of the Ministerial Institute of the Indiana Miami Reserve Christian Conference is in session at the First Christian church, East Seventeenth street, between Columbia and Martindale avenues. About twenty ministers are in session. There is not an organization of the Disciples' church, but of the so-called New Lights, a name that is not, however, accepted by the membership. There are about three hundred preachers of this sect in Indiana. In this conference, which embraces twelve counties, with Case on the north and Marion county on the south, there are fifty ministers and a membership of 2,500.

The institute opened last evening with a sermon by the Rev. E. D. Simmons of Rustaville. He was the pastor of the J. W. Dipsby, of Elwood. The president of the institute is the Rev. D. S. Boswell, of LaFontaine. The organizers are: Elder A. N. Norris, Farmland, secretary; Elder J. N. Dipsby, special critic.

The session began this morning with a social meeting. The first address of the First Christian church of this city, the Rev. J. F. Morris, made an address of welcome. The response was made by Elder D. S. Boswell. Elder A. S. Jones preached a revival sermon.

This afternoon an address was delivered by Elder M. B. Winger, Elder L. W. Hercules, of Center, Howard county, will preach this evening.

Sermons will be preached to-morrow at the First Christian church of this city, the Rev. J. F. Morris, made an address of welcome. The response was made by Elder D. S. Boswell. Elder A. S. Jones preached a revival sermon.

The building committee, of which Elder Hercules is president, will meet to-morrow at the First Christian church of this city, the Rev. J. F. Morris, made an address of welcome. The response was made by Elder D. S. Boswell. Elder A. S. Jones preached a revival sermon.

REPORT OF GRAND MASTER

HAWLEY TO SWITCHMEN.

THE COMMITTEES APPOINTED

The report of Grand Master F. T. Hawley, read at the convention of the Switchmen's Union of North America yesterday, was voluminous, covering the work of the union for the last two years. He said that there were now 184 lodges in the country, fifty-five more than two years ago, and that during the same time the membership had increased from 4,000 to 15,700. He reviewed the labor troubles that had disturbed the union, but said that they had been easily and satisfactorily settled. The chief recommendation he made was that the States should be divided into districts, to be in charge of district organizers and presidents. He said that nothing could be gained by the precipitate ordering of strikes, and advised fairness and deliberation in settling disputes.

The following committees were announced by the grand master:

Press—T. G. Meany, editor of the Switchman's Journal, of Buffalo, chairman; E. M. Banta, Salt Lake City; C. O. Burton, Springfield, Ill., and J. H. Hobbs, Texas.

Credentialed—W. H. Haviland, Cleveland, O.; W. B. Wilkeson, Chicago, and W. W. McInnes, Denver, Tex.

For the Convention—J. H. Mat Kiley, Seattle, Wash., and Grant Hammond, St. Paul.

Ritual and Secret Work—John T. McMillan, Ashland, O.; W. H. Langen, Chicago, Ill.; J. H. H. H. Newark, O., and W. S. Starke, Marion, O.

Committee on Resolutions.

Resolutions—J. F. Hughes, Oil City, Pa.; J. W. Fawell, Galveston, Tex., and J. H. Cummings, East Hartford, Conn.

Rules—E. B. Dunham, San Francisco, Cal.; Thomas Dean, Toledo, O., and E. S. Wade, Chicago.

Printing—P. C. Lamb, Boston; J. McGraw, Honesdale, N. Y., and T. Fitzpatrick, Memphis, Tenn.

Transportation—P. O. Shea, Indianapolis; J. T. O'Connell, Buffalo, and Harry D. Nolan, Cincinnati.

Claims and Appeals—John Lash, Saginaw, Mich.; H. W. Duly, Buffalo, and A. M. Danneke, Los Angeles.

Ways and Means—J. J. Shuck, Newton, Kas.; J. F. Thompson, Detroit, and M. J. Quinn, St. Paul, Minn.

Recommendations—J. Lamere, Minneapolis; J. A. Smith, Colorado City, and J. D. Smith, Minn.

After the adjournment in the evening the party took a trolley ride to Fair Park, where the delegates were well entertained.

The most important reports to come up at to-day's session is that of the general organizer of the union, W. C. Walsh, of Minneapolis. These men have traveled throughout the country, and their work has met with considerable success. The place for the next year's session was decided upon last night. The place was about $40,000, and of the steel work, $60,000. The total cost is said to have been more than $100,000.

Conductors Finish Their Work.

PITTSBURGH, May 20.—The convention of the Order of Railway Conductors of America came to a close last night. F. C. Smith, of Detroit, was re-elected grand conductor, and U. C. Ferguson, of Ogden, Utah, was re-elected grand secretary. The contest for the two trusteeship resulted in the selection of W. J. Burke, of Allegheny, and William J. Javoy, of Kansas City. The members of the executive committee were elected without opposition. Portland, Ore., was chosen as the next meeting place.

ENGINEERS GET TOGETHER

And Figure on a New Street that Goes Under Railroad.

G. W. Kiltredge, of Cincinnati, chief engineer of the Big Four railroad, has been in Indianapolis this week, conferring with the city engineers and the city council on the proposed new street, which will be constructed under the Big Four tracks.

There will be subways under both the Big Four and the Vandallia tracks. D. M. Parry is interested in the making of the thoroughfare, and has already filled in a great deal to raise the street above the level of the city. The new street will be a wide, level, and to be constructed with a view to the improvement of the city. A resolution for the improvement of the city was adopted by the city council. Much of the work will be done by the city. The city is charged with the duty of the city.

CLOSE AT SUNDAY NOON.

A Resolution Passed by the Journeymen Barbers' Union.

The Journeymen Barbers' Union last night adopted a resolution declaring that beginning with next Sunday, every barber shop in Indianapolis must be closed from noon on Sunday until 12 o'clock Sunday night. The resolution is looked on as the first step toward closing the shops from midnight Saturday night until the same hour Sunday night. For a long time many of the city shops, particularly those in South Illinois street in the neighborhood of the Union Station, and in the station, have been open from 7 o'clock Sunday morning until 12 o'clock Sunday evening. These shops, it is said, are profitable, and have steadily refused to close on Sunday.

Following the adoption of the closing resolution by the union, instructions were issued to members to cause the arrest of every shop owner who refuses to close at noon next Sunday. The shop owners, it is announced, will be prosecuted under the State law pertaining to Sunday work. The presumption is that the owners who refuse to close at noon next Sunday will be better than the union, for that would mean the closing of shops the night of the day.

The election of officers for Typographical Union, No. 1, was held, to-day, at 22 West Pearl street. On the quiet, there was much electioneering done, especially for the position of president. The following candidates were in the field, and ballots were cast until late this afternoon: For president, Edgar A. Perkins and C. M. Coleman, vice-president, Joseph F. Turk, recording secretary, W. W. Davy; financial and corresponding secretary, C. E. McKee, and J. B. Smith.

The national T. U. convention, to be held in Washington in August, will be represented by Edgar A. Perkins and C. M. Coleman, and J. B. Smith. The convention will be held in Washington in August, and will be represented by Edgar A. Perkins and C. M. Coleman, and J. B. Smith.

DANVILLE INTERURBAN.

Said that Cars will be Running by December.

DANVILLE, Ind., May 20.—The prospects for the building of the Indianapolis, Danville & Rockville electric line between Indianapolis and Danville, Ind., are brighter. The men behind the project say that the preliminary work is now completed and that the letting of the contract will be announced within a short time. The route parallels the Big Four road, from M. Jackson to the Rockville road. It follows this road till within half a mile of Danville, where it cuts across fields and for a short distance runs on the old right-of-way of the proposed railroad for which grading was done, thirty years ago. The men securing the right-of-way between Indianapolis and Danville completed their work Monday. Little grading will be necessary, but there will be several bridges, two of which will be large. It has been announced that grading will be begun by July 1, and that cars will be running between Indianapolis and Danville by December.

The line will eventually run westward and connect with the line running to Terre Haute and St. Louis. It has been announced that the line will be operated by the Western Traction Company, which is interested in the western extension, that both lines will use the same tracks. It was the first intention of the Eastern company to run from Indianapolis and Terre Haute, but the Greenville City Council granted the franchise to the Western Traction Company, through the plan of Frank M. Fawcett, who withdrew his application for a franchise. He will run north to Greenville, through the coal districts, with the intention of opening a new country which is only partially developed.

NEW BRIDGE DONE.

Pan-Handle Structure at Richmond Ready for Traffic.

[Special to The Indianapolis News.]

RICHMOND, Ind., May 20.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has completed the new bridge over Whitewater river in this city. It is nearly seven hundred feet long, and its height above the water line is between seventy-five and eighty feet. Besides the mammoth stone pier that support the structure, there is a stone arch midway between the banks of the river that is fifty-eight feet from base to top and seventy feet high. The total cost of the stone work was about $40,000, and of the steel work, $60,000. The total cost is said to have been more than $100,000.

Golden Anniversary Reception.

Henry M. Bronson, assistant general passenger agent of the Big Four, will hold an informal reception at his home, 823 North Capitol avenue, to-morrow evening, in commemoration of his golden anniversary in the railroad business. The affair will be informal and no invitations other than a general one have been issued. Mr. Bronson said that he feared that he would not be able to attend, but he issued individual invitations, and he is anxious for all of them to call.

COFFINS FLOATING AROUND IN HUGE WATER TANKS.

Grooming Exhibits at the Funeral Directors' Convention at the German House.

The Indiana funeral directors had 300 attendants at their State meeting sessions in the German House to-day, and are having the biggest State meeting in the history of their organization, which goes back twenty-two years. The club-house is filled with great water tanks, in which newly patented water-tight coffins are swimming around. Several manufacturers are displaying wonderful ghoul-proof burial boxes. There are elaborate displays of embalming fluids that are guaranteed to do the work better than the Egyptians ever thought possible, and several rooms are filled with the latest displays in coffins and undertakers' stocks and equipment.

President E. E. Davis delivered the president's annual address this morning. The secretary and treasurer's reports show that the association has 245 members and thirty-one applications on file. Dr. Nelson D. Brayton, of Indianapolis, made an address on the burial of small children, and the precautions that should be taken. J. H. McCuller, president of the national association, also addressed the convention.

The afternoon Carl L. Barnes, of the Chicago School of Embalming, delivered his second address. The convention will last over to-morrow. The annual election will occur to-morrow morning. Dr. Barnes will deliver his final lecture to-morrow afternoon. He gave an interesting talk on embalming last night, using illustrations to illustrate his points. President Davis has appointed the following committees:

Executive committee, E. E. Davis, Alexandria; J. H. Fetter, Peru; O. G. David, Williamsburg; C. E. Krueger, Indianapolis; and W. H. Hines, of Plainedge. Legislative committee, D. C. Barnhill, Crawfordsville; William Morcker, Jr., New Albany; N. F. Frier, of Union City. Auditing committee, Carl Smith, Connersville; George Comley, Frankfort; W. H. Adams, of Indianapolis; Credentials committee, M. B. Stutz, Huntington; B. F. Brown, Anderson; and W. H. Adams, of Indianapolis. Resolutions committee, F. W. Planner, of Indianapolis; C. M. McKee, Kokomo; and C. O. White, of Connersville.

Incorporated Companies.

The Jefferson Telephone Company, of Madison; capital stock, $10,000. W. A. Kirk, J. M. Benson and John McGregor are among the incorporators.

Greenfield Baseball Club, capital stock, $1,000. Directors, W. E. McKinnon, Ward Fletcher and Elmer J. Binford.

The Gilbert-Maddock company, of Dana, Vermilion county; capital stock, $10,000. Directors, W. E. McKinnon, Ward Fletcher and Elmer J. Binford.

The Clinton Water-Works Company, of Clinton; capital stock, $10,000. Directors, W. J. Vesey, F. C. Heine and Charles L. Olds.

Bill Posters Meet.

The Indiana Bill Posters' Association met at 204 East Washington street this morning. About thirty towns in the State were represented. The morning session did not begin until 11 o'clock, and was not until this afternoon that the members got down to business. It was said that no important questions were to be changed. The Indiana association following the schedule fixed by the national organization. Officers were to be elected this afternoon.

A Trip to Atlantic Seashore Resorts is a delightful outing at any season. Through tickets are sold at your railroad station, routed via the Lehigh Valley railroad. America's great double track scenic highway.
